Railroads

1. The Kuantien (124-46, 40-44) - Kuanshui (124-34, 40-53) line was completed 25 September 1946. In June 1946 it was reported completed, but in August 1946 this report was denied.
2. The roadbed of the Kuantien - Changtienho-kou (124-48, 40-25) line has been completed, but a lack of materials has prevented further progress.
3. The Kuanshui - Huanjen (125-21, 41-16) line roadbed has been completed and it is expected that rails and ties will be laid soon. (The distance between the two points is 80 kilometers.)
4. The roadbed of the Erhheiaotzu (124-55, 41-07) - Huanjen line (approximately 40 kilometers) has not yet been made, although the tunnel has been completed. erroneously located the tunnel "five km prior to arriving at Kuantien."

25X1A

5. Contrary to previous reports, rails and ties for the Kuantien - Suiho Dam line (124-58, 40-28) have not yet been secured and only the roadbed has been completed.

Roads

6. The Kuantien - Huanjen road is a third class road approximately 120 kilometers in length.
7. The Shaoakutzu (124-55, 40-54) - Huanjen road is a second class road. Ordinary carts traverse the distance between the two localities in two days.
